TESTAMONIAL

In the month of September 2009, I discussed with Phil ideas of promotional gifts that I could use as a gift to our clients. A number of suggestions came about and in the end I agreed to go with the idea of a folding umbrella. I informed Phil of my budget and he set about of getting me some samples.

On the day that Phil gave in the samples, a discussion with a client (who in turn was Phil's mother) and some members of my team, I decided to go with black and put our logo, name and telephone numbers in one of the panels.

Phil delivered the goods in early December 2009 in time for our Christmas rush. The clients were presently surprised when they received their gift. As a customer quoted "what a very thoughtful idea in these current times".

So to sum up my experience in dealing with Academy Crests is that they are great at sourcing what their client needs, conscientious at delivering within budget and on time.

I have no hesitation in recommending Academy Crests in the future.

Yours sincerely,

MARY O'MAHONY
